The RBI Assistant Prelims Exam is the first stage of selection, consisting of 100 objective-type questions. The Preliminary exam includes three sections: English Language, Numerical Ability, and Reasoning Ability. You will have 60 minutes to complete the exam, with each section allocated 20 minutes. The English Language section is available only in English, while Numerical Ability and Reasoning Ability sections offer questions in both English and Hindi. The exam includes a deduction of one-fourth marks for every wrong answer, with no penalty for unanswered questions.

Mains Exam:

The RBI Assistant Mains Exam comprises 200 objective-type questions across five sections: English Language, Numerical Ability, Computer Knowledge, General Awareness, and Reasoning. The total duration of the exam is 135 minutes, with specific time limits for each section.

Language Proficiency Test (LPT):

Candidates who clear the Mains Exam move on to the Language Proficiency Test (LPT). This test evaluates your proficiency in the official or local language of the state or Union Territory for which you are applying. Proficiency in the specified language is mandatory, and candidates failing to demonstrate adequate proficiency may be disqualified.
