The given question suggests finding the correct arrangement of parts forming a coherent sentence.

The first part of the sentence is 'C' as it starts a topic of American Votes.

The next part is 'A' as it is describe about the electors which is followed by part 'D'.

So, we got the sequence CADB.

The correct order of formation is:

Technically, Americans cast votes for electors, not the candidates themselves. Electors are typically party loyalists who pledge to support the candidate who gets the most votes in their state. Each elector represents one vote in the Electoral College.

Hence, the correct answer is Option 3 i.e. CADB.
