Concept/Grammar rules	Applications
-----------------------	--------------

The theme of the question is to find the best alternative for the three fragments of the sentence so as to make the sentence both grammatically as well as contextually appropriate.

The original words refer to the following:

Breakthrough- an achievement after a lot of hard work. The tone is negative here and thus this is incorrect.

Controversial- disputed. This is correct in the present context.

Envisaging- imagining. This does not make any sense as it implies that the individuals were imagining influencing the Supreme Court. This sounds absurd.

Thus, the original set of words is incorrect.

Option 1- 'Emission' means discharge and is irrelevant here.

Option 3- 'Combative' means aggressive or belligerent and 'conceiving' to dreaming or preparing an idea. Both are irrelevant to the context and incorrect.

Option 4- 'Castigating' means criticizing and does not fit in. Looking at Option 2-

All the words in this option fit well grammatically as well as contextually.

Outbreak- sudden occurrence.

Contentious- causing or likely to cause an argument.

Plotting- planning.

The statement after replacement:

The actual reason that led to the (A) outbreak of the current conflict could be the (B) contentious Prasad Education Trust case, in which the petitioners alleged that
